Interior design tip: Don't forget the flooring!

When it comes to modernising your home, nothing does it better than wooden flooring, and no one in the industry provides you with better quality wood flooring than Timberland Flooring. With over 20 years experience in the industry and a team of over 20 experienced designers, Timberland make the tricky job of interior design painless.

Centrally based in Oxfordshire, Timberland Flooring have a customer base from all over the UK, meaning their flooring is in use in thousands of homes, hotels and restaurants chains. Their team's 175 years of combined experience working with timber puts them in the highly desirable position of being best in the business. Timberland Flooring customers never wonder if their best interest is being looked after, it's something that is proven at every stage in the process.

Timberland's experienced design team are fully conversant in all aspects of flooring, from durability, species, and grain to advising you on making the right choice of wood to suit your decor, lighting and furniture. The team will visit your home, present you with samples to ensure you get the colour schemes right, and carry out a free site design and consultation to ensure you make the right decision.

This consultation is so important due to varying consumer needs. Some homes, for example, require solid oak flooring due to structural requirements. Others are more concerned with matching the colour scheme of their recently redesigned sitting room. Whatever your home's requirements, you'll rest easy at night knowing that all flooring from Timberland has a life expectancy of 60 years and all glues are water based. Even the top layer of acrylic lacquer on the floor is water based which means no nasty fumes or solvents leak out into the air or your home.

Some families consider surface sealed wood flooring to be the most desirable, as it is easy and inexpensive to maintain. Timberland Flooring don't want you to do all the work, however, and to share the burden with you they offer maintenance and aftercare products and advice. The range of Floor Care Products will help keep your wood floor in the best condition possible.
